TREK BICYCLE CORPORATION Plaintiff, v. UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT; UNITED STATES CUSTOMS AND BORDER PROTECTION; RODNEY S. SCOTT, in his official capacity as Commissioner of United States Customs and Border Protection; OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES TRADE REPRESENTATIVE; JAMIESON GREER, in his official capacity as United States Trade Representative; and UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION Defendants.	)	Court No. 25-00917

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, Trek Bicycle Corporation ("Plaintiff" or "Trek Bicycle") by and through its undersigned attorneys, alleges and states a cause of action as follows:

CAUSE OF ACTION

1. Trek Bicycle is an importer of record for foreign-origin merchandise imported into the United States.

2. Through a series of executive orders issued since February 2, 2025, President Donald Trump invoked the International Emergency Economic Powers Act ("IEEPA"), Pub. L. No. 95-223, Section 202, 91 Stat. 1626 (1977), as authority to impose new and substantial tariffs ("IEEPA tariffs") on merchandise imported into the United States from every foreign country, including countries from which Plaintiff sources its merchandise. As importer of record, Plaintiff is responsible for paying the IEEPA tariffs through the entry process.

3. This Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit have held that IEEPA does not authorize these tariffs. These decisions are currently pending before the United States Supreme Court.

4. Plaintiff seeks (i) a declaration that the IEEPA tariffs are unlawful as applied to Plaintiff's entries; (ii) an injunction preventing the imposition of further IEEPA tariffs on Plaintiff's entries; and (iii) an order requiring the full refund of all IEEPA tariffs Plaintiff has paid to the United States as of the date of such order, with interest, as appropriate, through reliquidation as necessary, or a money judgment equal to the same amount.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff, Trek Bicycle, is a U.S. company, with its corporate headquarters at 801 W. Madison Street, Waterloo, WI, 53594.

6. Defendant United States of America imposed and received the IEEPA tariffs and is the statutory defendant under 5 U.S.C. § 702 and 28 U.S.C. § 1581(i)(1)(B).

7. Defendant Executive Office of the President consists of the offices and agencies that support the work of the President and the Executive Branch of the United States. The Executive Office of the President issued executive orders imposing the IEEPA tariffs.

8. Defendant United States Customs and Border Protection ("CBP") is a component agency of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security headquartered in Washington, D.C. CBP is responsible for border security and collecting tariffs or duties and taxes on merchandise imported into the United States, including the IEEPA tariffs.

9. Defendant Rodney S. Scott is the Commissioner of CBP and is sued in his official capacity.

10. The Office of the United States Trade Representative ("USTR") is an agency of the United States headquartered in Washington, D.C. USTR is responsible for developing and promoting United States foreign trade policies, including trade negotiations with foreign nations that have resulted in one or more changes to the ad valorum rates of the IEEPA tariffs.

11. Defendant Jamieson Greer is the United States Trade Representative of USTR and is sued in his official capacity.

12. Defendant United States International Trade Commission ("ITC") is an agency of the United States headquartered in Washington, D.C. 13. Defendants are referred to collectively in this complaint as "Defendants."

JURISDICTION AND STANDING

14. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1581 as this action is commenced against the United States, and agencies and officers thereof, and arises out of a law providing for tariffs and duties, embargoes and other quantitative restrictions, and the administrative and enforcement thereof. 28 U.S.C. § 1581(i). IEEPA specifically provides for embargoes and other quantitative restrictions and has been invoked by executive orders published by the Executive Office of the President to impose tariffs.

15. This Court possesses all the powers in law and equity of, or as conferred by statute upon, a district court of the United States. 28 U.S.C. § 1585.

16. This Court may enter a money judgment for or against the United States in any civil action commenced under 28 U.S.C. § 1581 or 28 U.S.C. § 1582 and may also order any other form of relief that is appropriate in a civil action, including, but not limited to, declaratory judgments, orders of remand, injunctions, and writs of mandamus and prohibition. 28 U.S.C. §§ 2643(a)(1), (c)(1).

17. By virtue of importing merchandise into the United States and paying IEEPA tariffs assessed, as well as, for some of its entries, the final assessment of the IEEPA tariffs through liquidation, Plaintiff has been adversely affected or aggrieved by the imposition of IEEPA tariffs by Defendants and has standing to pursue this suit under 28 U.S.C. § 2631(i).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

18. The Executive Office of the President has published multiple executive orders imposing IEEPA tariffs on a number of countries, citing IEEPA as granting the President the authority to do so. The executive orders that imposed tariffs applicable to Plaintiff's merchandise are as follows:

19. On February 1, 2025, the Executive Office of the President published Executive Order 14195, 90 Fed. Reg. 9121, Imposing Duties to Address the Synthetic Opioid Supply Chain in the People's Republic of China, imposing tariffs on goods of China. The Executive Order stated that such tariffs were required to combat "the sustained influx of synthetic opioids" from China. Executive Orders 14200, 14228, 14256, and 14357 subsequently modified Executive Order 14195. The tariffs imposed by these orders remain in effect.

20. On February 1, 2025, the Executive Office of the President published Executive Order 14193, 90 Fed. Reg. 9113, Imposing Duties to Address the Flow of Illicit Drugs Across

Our Northern Border, imposing tariffs on goods of Canada. The Executive Order cites "[g]ang members, smugglers, human traffickers, and illicit drugs" as well as Canada's failure "to devote sufficient attention and resources" to preventing illegal drugs from entering the United States as the basis for imposing tariffs. Executive Orders 14197, 14226, 14231, and 14325 subsequently modified Executive Order 14193. The tariffs imposed by these orders remain in effect.

21. On April 2, 2025, citing trade deficits with U.S. trading partners as a separate national emergency, the Executive Office of the President published Executive Order 14257, 90 Fed. Reg. 15,041, Regulating Imports with a Reciprocal Tariff to Rectify Trade Practices that Contribute to Large and Persistent Annual United States Goods Trade Deficits. The Executive Order asserts that "U.S. trading partners' economic policies…suppress domestic wages and consumption, as indicated by large and persistent annual U.S. goods trade deficits." A baseline tariff was imposed on all countries, while additional country-specific rates were also announced and later came into effect. Executive Order 14257 was subsequently modified by Executive Orders 14259, 14266, 14298, 14316, 14324, 14326, 14334, 14346, 14358, and 14360. The tariffs imposed by these orders remain in effect.

22. Plaintiff's merchandise has been and continues to be subject to the tariffs imposed by the Executive Orders described above (collectively, the "Challenged Tariff Orders").

23. To implement the Challenged Tariff Orders, the Executive Office of the President directed changes to the HTSUS requiring that goods subject to the tariffs imposed by the above executive orders be entered under new tariff codes.

24. The ITC publishes and maintains the HTSUS consistent with presidential orders. 19 U.S.C. § 1202. In response to the implementation of the Challenged Tariff Orders, the ITC has repeatedly updated Chapter 99 of the HTSUS to conform with the actions of the Executive Office of the President. Importers, including Plaintiff, have been required to include such subheadings on entry declarations filed for imported merchandise subject to the IEEPA tariffs.

25. Additional actions implementing the Challenged Tariff Orders have been undertaken by CBP, including the assessment of the IEEPA tariffs on entries of Plaintiff's merchandise and the liquidation thereof. CBP is charged with the assessment and collection of all duties, taxes, and fees required upon importation, including the IEEPA tariffs. See 19 U.S.C. §§ 1500, 1502. CBP additionally issues Federal Register notices and Cargo Systems Messaging Service notices regarding the applicability of the tariffs imposed by the Challenged Tariff Orders.

26. USTR has additionally been tasked with the modification of the IEEPA tariffs based on negotiations with foreign nations. Thus far, USTR has published multiple Federal Register notices and announced deals with foreign nations impacting the applicability and rate of the IEEPA tariffs imposed on merchandise entering the United States, including Plaintiff's.

27. Plaintiff has been adversely impacted or aggrieved by these actions pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 702. Such agency actions are final as to Plaintiff upon the payment of IEEPA tariffs to CBP that cannot thereafter be recovered.

28. On April 14, 2025, several companies filed an action in this Court challenging the legality of the Executive Office of the President's imposition of tariffs under the authority granted by IEEPA. This Court determined that the imposition of tariffs was not authorized by IEEPA in V.O.S. Selections, Inc. v. United States, 772 F. Supp. 3d 1350 (Ct. Int'l Trade), aff'd in part, vacated in part, remanded sub nom. V.O.S. Selections, Inc. v. Trump, 149 F.4th 1312 (Fed. Cir. 2025) (en banc), cert. granted, 222 L. Ed. 2d 1231 (Sept. 9, 2025).

29. IEEPA grants certain powers to the President, including the ability to "regulate…importation… of… any property in which any foreign country or national thereof has any interest by any person… subject to the jurisdiction of the United States…" 50 U.S.C. § 1702(a)(1)(B).

30. The authorities granted to the President under 50 U.S.C. § 1702 may be used to deal with an "unusual and extraordinary threat" with respect to which a national emergency has been declared. 50 U.S.C. § 1701.

31. No provision of IEEPA makes any mention of tariffs, duties, or other revenue-raising measures.

32. This Court found that, based on the language of the statute, IEEPA did not grant the President the authority to impose tariffs. Specifically, this Court found that the "President's assertion of tariff-making authority in the instant case, unbounded as it is by any limitation in duration or scope, exceeds any tariff authority delegated to the President under IEEPA." V.O.S. Selections, 772 F. Supp. 3d 1350, 1376.

33. Additionally, this Court found that if IEEPA did in fact authorize the President to impose tariffs at will, such an authorization would be a violation of the Constitution, particularly the delegation of taxation authority by Congress. Citing the nondelegation and major questions doctrines, the Court found that the "an unlimited delegation of tariff authority would constitute an improper abdication of legislative power to another branch of government." Id. 1372.

34. This Court's decision was appealed, but ultimately upheld in part by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in V.O.S. Selections, Inc. v. Trump, 149 F.4th 1312 (Fed. Cir. 2025), cert. granted, 222 L. Ed. 2d 1231 (Sept. 9, 2025). The Federal Circuit again found the IEEPA tariffs to be beyond the authority granted to the President by IEEPA, finding that "Congress, in enacting IEEPA, did not give the President wide-ranging authority to impose tariffs" on a global scale. Id. at 1337. This decision is now pending before the Supreme Court.

35. In the meantime, the IEEPA tariffs imposed by the Challenged Tariff Orders continue to apply to merchandise imported into the United States, including Plaintiff's.

36. The Challenged Tariff Orders include the same orders that were held unlawful in V.O.S. Selections or are materially identical in structure, authority claimed, and effect. All of the Challenged Tariff Orders purport to impose tariffs and modify the HTSUS solely under IEEPA.

37. As of the date of this complaint, Plaintiff has paid and continues to pay IEEPA tariffs imposed by the Challenged Tariff Orders.

COUNT I

38. The preceding paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated by reference as though fully restated herein.

39. The imposition of the IEEPA tariffs through the Challenged Tariff Orders exceeds the statutory authority granted to the President by IEEPA.

40. For the same reasons set forth by this Court and the Federal Circuit with respect to V.O.S. Selections, the Challenged Tariff Orders exceed the President's statutory authority and are therefore unlawful, void ab initio, and without effect as applied to Plaintiff.

COUNT II

41. The preceding paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated by reference as though fully restated herein.

42. IEEPA constitutes an impermissible delegation of legislative power from Congress to the President.

43. The Challenged Tariff Orders exceed the President's authority under the Constitution and are therefore unlawful, void ab initio, and without effect as applied to Plaintiff.

COUNT III

44. The preceding paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated by reference as though fully restated herein.

45. The revisions of the HTSUS implementing secondary classifications under Chapter 99 pursuant to the Challenged Tariff Orders were completed under unlawful executive orders.

46. Such revisions are therefore unlawful, void ab initio, and without effect as applied to Plaintiff.

COUNT IV

47. The preceding paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated by reference as though fully restated herein.

48. The requirement to classify its merchandise in secondary classifications in Chapter 99, HTSUS, related to the Challenged Tariff Orders, was pursuant to unlawful executive orders.

49. The requirement to include such secondary classifications is therefore unlawful, void ab initio, and without effect as applied to Plaintiff.

COUNT V

50. The preceding paragraphs of this Complaint are incorporated by reference as though fully restated herein.

51. The further modification of the HTSUS through Federal Register notices published by USTR has been undertaken per unlawful executive orders.

52. Such modifications are therefore unlawful, void ab initio, and without effect as applied to Plaintiff.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff respectfully prays that this Court:

(a) declare that the Challenged Tariff Orders are ultra vires and void ab initio;

(b) declare that the revisions to the HTSUS by the ITC are void ab initio;

(c) declare that the requirement to classify merchandise in Chapter 99 provisions was unlawful;

(d) declare that the revisions to the HTSUS by USTR are void ab initio;

(e) enjoin Defendants from implementing and collecting from Plaintiff any IEEPA tariffs;

(f) order the United States to refund all IEEPA tariffs collected from Plaintiff as of the date of such order, with interest as provided by law, through liquidation or reliquidation as necessary, or, in the alternative, order the United States to pay Plaintiff a money judgment equal to the value of such IEEPA tariffs, plus interest;

(g) award Plaintiff its reasonable costs, including attorneys' fees, incurred in bringing this action; and

(h) grant such further and additional relief as this Court deems proper.
